Professional Summary

I am a detail oriented and curious Technical Support professional with over 4 years of experience helping people solve complex software, web, and system related problems. I genuinely enjoy digging into issues, figuring out why something isn't working, and explaining solutions in a way anyone can understand. I have hands on experience with WordPress, debugging workflows, AI tools, and general tech infrastructure, and I'm always looking for ways to learn new skills and improve. Accuracy, adaptability, and a commitment to getting things right are at the core of how I work. I take pride in ensuring that users have a smooth, frustration-free experience.
